

Tiber WBHO JV takes top honours at MBA North Regional Safety Awards

MBA North

In the build-up to the annual Master Builders South Africa (MBSA) National Safety Awards which take place at Congress in September, Master Builders Association North held its Regional Safety Awards presentation in Midrand in July.

In closing, President of MBA North, Tony Riley congratulated all participants and winners, and extended a special vote of thanks to Thelma Pugh of FEM for the continued strong support and dedication offered by FEM. ■

The Tiber WBHO Joint Venture was announced as the winner of the coveted FEM Super League Trophy for Projects R500 Million and Above for their outstanding safety performance at the new Discovery Head Office, whilst GVK-Siya Zama scooped no less than four awards across various categories.

The event was well attended by office bearers, members and guests of MBA North, as well as by MBA North Past Presidents Lea Smith, Neil Duncan and Pieter Rude the Executive Director of MBSA, Roy Mnisi; the Operations Director of MBSA, Pierre Fourie; MBSA Past Presidents Eunice Forbes and Nico Maas; and renowned safety specialist Doug Michell.

In his address, Executive Director of the MBA North, Mohau Mphomela acknowledged the dedication and commitment of all companies who participated in the Competition. "Construction Health and Safety is not all about compliance, it's about doing right things right," said Mphomela. "And in the months ahead we look forward to working closely with FEM and other stakeholders in the all-important SAFETember awareness campaign." MBA North's own Paul Adams delivered an emotion filled Keynote address on Master Building at Heights, the South African construction industry and why there is a need to change and prevent deaths and disabling injuries

Speaking on the Competition entrants, Gerhard Roets, Construction Health and Safety Specialist at MBA North, said that a total of 51 companies were judged for the Awards, including entries from as far afield as Bela - Bela, Lichtenburg and Nelspruit and lauded all participants for the high safety standards in place on all sites.
